New Water Disposal System Prevents Pollution

"New farming methods caused my grassed waterways to wash out leaving five to six-foot deep gullies and depositing soil three feet deep in the hollows," says Marion Sanders of Coffee County. "In earlier years, when we used two-row equipment and no chemical weeds, grass and weeds, grass-terrace waterways and old-time terraces did the job. But today the chemicals we use to control weeds and grass in the crops also kill the grass in the waterways. Also, with modern four and eight row equipment, longer rows are needed for efficiency of large farm machinery. With the old standard type terraces my longest rows were only a quarter of a mile long, and many were much less. When the waterways washed out, the rows were shortened even more since the equipment could not cross the deep gullies. Many of these gullies were at least eight feet wide and five to six feet deep and divided the larger fields into much smaller fields."

Sanders, a cropland farmer of Brundidge will show you with much enthusiasm his newest conservation effort - parallel terraces with underground tile outlets which carry the water down the slope. All water collected by the terrace system flows through the underground tile to the bottom of the slope. Sanders says that the beauty of the system is that it prevents stream pollution below. Fertilizers and soils are kept up in the field in the terraces and are no longer carried to streams, lakes, and road ditches.

Sanders knew he had to do something about the deepening ditches that were carrying sediment out of this field and into the hollows. As one of the original supervisors of the Coffee County Soil and Water Conservation District, Vice President, Alabama Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts, and a member of the Wiregrass Resource Conservation and Development Project Steering Committee, he knew where to go for help. With the assistance of district conservationist John Richardson, Jr., and others, Sanders planned his attack on the erosion problem. A water disposal

Retail Sales Continue To Increase In Coffee

Sales at retail stores in Coffee County continued to show an increase during October (the latest month figures are available). According to information released by the Graduate School of Business of the University of Alabama, Coffee County retail sales increased by 2.7% in October 1972 compared to October 1971. If you include retail sales by wholesalers and count all sales for the two periods, Coffee County sales increased 7% over the same October period.

Leading the increase in the latest report was hardware and farm implements with a whopping 60.3% increase. This increase over October 1971 was on top of a 10% increase in 1971 over 1970.

General stores registered a 47.7% increase over 1971 while eating places increased 41.3% over the same October period last year. Furniture stores showed an increase of 22.5% in Coffee County, and retail sales by "other than retail businesses" increased by 48.2%.

On the down side of the sales picture were drug stores with a drop of 12.4% which could be contributed to fewer cases of sickness due to the mild weather experiences this fall.

Wearing apparel also showed a drop - 11.9% - which would bear out the mild weather theory for both drug stores and the clothing businesses.

The automobile sales for October, 1972, showed a drop of a little over 6%, but this was more a leveling off after the big 43% increase last year for the same period.

Other losses include food stores and lumber and building materials, while gas stations, general merchandise and other retail businesses joined the group with increased business.

Jones Receives Ford Service Tech Award

James Jones of Dismukes Ford is Enterprise, is among the nation's first service technicians to be rewarded under Ford Customer Service Division's incentive program for dealership service employees launched a month ago.

Service customers who rated Jones highly during the past month helped make the award selection, according to Herman Dismukes, president. Customers at Dismukes Ford's service department receive "report cards" after their work is completed. The customer is asked to grade the dealership's service performance and return the postage-paid card to Ford.

"Mr. Jones was recognized for the quality of his service work and received a $25 merchandise certificate in the program's first prize drawing held recently in Detroit, Mich.," Mr. Dismukes said. "This is the first national incentive program to recognize quality repair work by our technicians, and it has been well received both by customers and our service employees."

Mr. and Mrs. Avery Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Solomon have returned from Southgate, Michigan, where they spent the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hildreth and family.

Mrs. Hildreth is the sister of Mr. Solomon and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson.

VA Job Training Now Available For Widows

The Veterans' wives, widows, and children, who are eligible for VA educational assistance, may now take on the job training or apprenticeships in lieu of going to college, the Veterans Administration pointed out.

A law approved by the President in October increased allowances for this type of training by nearly 48 percent and broadened the types of training available under the Dependents Educational Assistance Program, it was pointed out.

Jr. ROTC Presents Prizes In Raffle

Elba High School's Junior ROTC Cadet Corps sponsored a meat raffle during November and December to raise funds for the annual ROTC Military Ball planned for February 12, 1973.

For each additional dependent in excess of two, a veteran receives an additional $8.

The new public law (PL 92-540) also changed the rules on correspondence training to open this form of training to eligible wives and children, and to provide greater protection for trainees. The law also permits greater flexibility in classroom for veterans in full time farm cooperative training. Some of the required 40 annual classroom hours may be rescheduled provided enrollees spend at least 80 hours in classroom study in any three month period it was explained.

OPERATION IDENTIFICATION FOILING THIEVES

Using an electric pencil borrowed from a member of the National Association of Insurance Agents, a sportsman marks his binoculars with his area coded phone number as a part of the Operation Identification program. The combination of the positive identification of the property, and warning stickers on the house, doors, burglar alarm, and makes the stolen property easier to trace and recover should a thief break into a home.

When caught with the Doctor's tape recorder marked with an Operation Identification number.

If statistics aren't convincing enough listen to police officers who have had experience with Operation Identification. New Orleans Police Sergeant William Nolan: "We have reliable information from underworld sources that burglars are watching out very intently for the stickers."

Cincinnati Police Chief Carl V. Goudin: "Identification of valuables could have prevented most of the 2,900 burglaries recorded in 1971."

Princeton Township (N.J.) Police Chief Frederick Porter: "No burglar or thief would want to take any property that's definitely marked and could be identified in a few seconds." (With Operation Identification, even if a robbery does occur, "It's just a matter of a phone call or a quick computer check, and you know instantly whether the property was stolen and from whom."

And a final convincing endorsement of the efficacy of Operation Identification comes from the insurance business itself. Backed up by all of its statistics, computer and laws of probabilities, the Hartford Insurance Group is offering a one per cent reduction in the basic premium of Connecticut homeowners policy if the policyholder meets the requirements of the Operation Identification program, which in Connecticut, is being operated by the State police with the support of the National Association of Insurance Agents.

Reap Activities Terminated

Funding of cost-sharing activities under the Rural Environmental Assistance Program (REAP) and for further contracting under the Water Bank Program (WBP) is being terminated, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced.

These two programs are among those selected after a review of federal programs to identify those of low priority that can be reduced or eliminated without serious economic consequences. This review was initiated as part of the effort to hold 1973 federal budget outlays to $250 billion.

TSU Band Invited To Washington

Alabama's Second District Congressman William L. "Bill" Dickinson announced that the Troy State University Marching Band has been invited as the official representative of the State of Alabama in the Inaugural Parade on January 20, 1973 in Washington, D. C.

Inflation hasn't changed the price of ashes. But it has changed the price of your home. For example, if you bought an $18,000 home in 1963—today its worth about $24,000. Don't be left with a costly pile of ashes. See me about a State Farm Homeowners Policy that will cover your home for all it's worth—and keep it that way with automatic inflation coverage.

MARTINI'S

There are some ham or turkey left over from Christmas. Day you might want to try this recipe.

TURKEY-HAM CURRY
6 servings, 1/2 cup each
Onion, chopped, 2 tsp.
Green pepper, chopped, 1 Tbs.
Butter or margarine, 2 Tbs.
Flour, 1/4 cup
Salt, 1/2 tsp.
Curry powder, 1/4 tsp.
Pepper, Few grains
Milk, 2-1/4 cups
Turkey, cooked, diced, 1 cup
Ham, cooked, diced, 1/2 cup
Toast or rice, cooked.

Brown onion and green pepper lightly in the fat. Add the turkey and ham. Heat to serving temperature. Serve on toast or on cooked rice.

PANTYHOSE
You can improve the fit and wear-life of pantyhose with a little thought and effort. Read size instructions on packages before you buy sizes vary from size to style. If you have problems with proper fit, seek the help of a sales person. When putting on pantyhose, sit down, fit the hose comfortably on both feet and work smoothly up over the knees. Stretch up and gently stretch and adjust the armnet up to the hips, making sure the crotch fit is right. Then, smooth out the panty portion and adjust the waistband.

Avoid rough nails and chapped hands when putting on pantyhose—wear gloves if necessary. Don't sit on chairs with rough or splintered edges and be careful of low shrubs or hedges. Store pantyhose in a compartment lined with paper for protection or keep them in plastic bags.

Don't expect sheer pantyhose to wear like iron. Active women should think in terms of a pantyhose wardrobe—sheers for leisurely beauty and heavier weight opaques for more active wear.

Removing mildew in the bathroom is a job most homemakers don't want to tackle at one time or another.

Mildew is caused by a type of mold that is always present in the air, and it seems to flourish in areas that are damp, warm and poorly aired or lighted. The bathroom is an area where the musty odors and thin grayish film of mildew are often most noticeable.

To remove mildew in the bathroom, scrub floors and tile with a solution of one gallon of water, one-half to one cup of chlorine bleach and one-fourth cup household detergent. Wear rubber gloves when applying mixture. Let set one hour. Then, scrub again with same mixture. Rinse with clean water and wipe dry as dry as possible. Apply the paste and scrub grouting clean with a toothbrush. Rinse with clear water and wipe dry.

To avoid return of mildew, apply a very thin coat of tung oil after the tile is completely dry. Use your hand or a cloth to apply the oil. Pay special attention to corners. Let dry overnight at 70 degrees Fahrenheit or more.

TIME SAVING TIPS
Many recipes call for ingredients that need to be chopped, grated, diced or minced before you can use them. Often, it's possible to do this time-consuming work ahead of time and freeze the ingredients until you need them. These should be used within three to four weeks.

Cheese can be grated a pound or two at a time. One pound makes about four cups of grated cheese. Measure the grated cheese in one-cup units or in the amount you will most often want, put in moisture-proof proof freezer containers

Dickinson said he was told of the decision today by George Deyo, Alabama's State Inaugural Coordinator.

Dickinson said he was "extremely pleased" with the news because he had been working for some time to get the Troy band invited and had contacted White House and other top officials in Troy's behalf.

In making the announcement, Dickinson said, Troy State University's "Sound of the South" will bring honor to Alabama. It is truly one of the nation's greatest collegiate marching bands.

The Troy State Marching Band officially represented Alabama in the Inaugural Parade in 1969. The band is well-known nationally, having been seen many times at football games and other events shown on nationwide television.

The Director of the Band is Dr. John M. Long, one of the outstanding band directors in the nation. In addition, Johnny Long serves as Dean of the School of Fine Arts at Troy State University.

The 164-member band has been invited to the Peach Bowl in Atlanta, Georgia, and will be seen on national television December 29th.

Dickinson commented, "I have seen the 'Sound of the South' many times and I look forward to seeing the band perform in Washington. This band has a model for marching bands all across the nation and we're proud the band is from Alabama."

Johnson - Minor Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Rander Johnson of Rt. 5, Elba, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Mary Katherine, to Roger Lee Minor, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Minor of Cave City, Kentucky.

Miss Johnson was graduated from Elba High School and is presently employed in the Comptroller's Office at Fort Rucker, Alabama. Mr. Minor is presently employed with Howard Hall Transportation Company in Birmingham.

The wedding is planned for January 20, 1973, at six o'clock at the Mt. Vernon Congregational Methodist Church, of Rt. 5, Elba. All friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend.

Miss Kay Macon and Mr. Rex Wyrosdick were united in marriage on Friday, November 17, in the Elba First Assembly of God Church. Reverend Shirley Hatcher, minister, officiated at the 8:00 p.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Macon. The groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Wyrosdick of Kinston.

Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Katherine Johnson, organist, and Mr. Billy Watson, vocalist. Number rendered was "Wither Thou Goest."

The Sanctuary was decorated with balls of fern. The vows were exchanged before an altar with a large candle tree and basket of red roses in the center with two smaller candle trees on each side. To the right of the groom was a three-branched candelabra holding one unlighted candle and two burning candles on each side symbolizing of their separate lives.

Following the double ring ceremony, the bride and groom each took a lighted candle and together lit the unlighted candle. They blew out their individual candles and returned them to the candidates.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of satin. The bodice was covered with lace, with initial seed pearls and sequins, and featured arm-length sleeves. The chapel-length train fell from a fitted empire waist and featured points of lace. Her fingertip veil fell from a flowered headpiece trimmed with pearls and sequins. The bride chose a bouquet of mixed flowers centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Sue Mace, sister of the bride, served the bride as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Henrietta Gaines and Miss Lisa Lisa Macon was the bride's flower girl. All the attendants wore identical gowns of deep berry velvet. Their dresses featured an empire waist, high neck, and freeze.

You can chop a pound or two of onions at a time—either with a knife or in your blender if you prefer finely chopped pieces. Wrap in one-fourth to one-half cup units in airtight plastic wrap. Place packages in a glass freezer jar that can be closed tightly to keep the onion odor from escaping in the freezer.

Green peppers can be chopped and frozen, parsley can be minced and then put in the freezer. Both should be packaged in convenient sized units and put in moisture-vapor-proof freezer containers before freezing.

Bread crumbs can be kept on hand in the freezer, too. Save bread heels until you have several. Crumb them in the blender or between two sheets of wax paper with your rolling pin. Store in an airtight freezer container. If you like, you can lightly butter the heels before crumbing to make buttered crumbs.

Explanation Of Feed - Grain Program Mailed To Farmers

A preliminary explanation of the newly-announced 1973 Feed Grain Program is being mailed to Coffee County farmers with feed grain bases.

Reports Rollan Day, Chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation ASC Committee.

Some 1096 producers of corn, grain sorghum, and barley participated in the 1972 Feed Grain Program, earning payments totaling approximately $533,058.

The 1973 Feed Grain Program includes barley, corn, and grain sorghum, and producers may elect to participate under one of two options.

Option A requires an acreage set-aside equivalent to 30 percent of a farm's feed grain base. Payment will be on an acreage equal to one-half of each feed grain base established for the farm. Per acre payment rates will be equal to the farm program yield times 35 cents for corn, 33 cents for grain sorghum, and 28 cents for barley. A supplemental payment is possible if a five-month National average price plus the payment is less than 70 percent of parity. Feed grain acreage on farms signed up in Option A will be limited only by set-aside and conserving base requirements.

Option B requires an acreage set-aside equivalent to 15 percent of a farm's feed grain base. Farmers electing to participate under this plan agree to limit their 1973 total feed grain acreage to the total acreage certified as planted for harvest in 1972 and also agree to forego supplemental payments. Payment will be on an acreage equal to one-half of each feed grain base established for the farm. The per acre payment rates will be equal to the farm program yield times 24 cents for corn, 23 cents for grain sorghum, and 20 cents for barley.

Under either option, substitution of wheat in excess of the allotment and soybeans planted for harvest as beans will be allowed.

Those interested in obtaining more details should check with the ASCS County Office, Rollan Day said.

Active participants were: Dennis Weatherford, John Wesley Norris, Wade Brown, Scotty Cain, Steve Hawthorne, Ray Kelley.

Krazy Kwestion

QUESTION: What is your New Year's resolution?
TONY JONES: I'm going to love more girls.
ELLIE GIDEON: To let my teachers rest. I figure one semester of me being me is enough.
WAYNE NELSON: To slow down to watch for cops.
KENNETH OGLESBY: Take things easier for a change.
CINDY SIMMONS: Start on my second romance. I missed the first.

What If

Girls who can't decide on what kind of a career they want might be wise to go to the secretarial route. Salaries are good, and so is the demand for secretarial services.
According to the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics, there are more than three times as many secretaries employed today as there were 20 years ago. In 1950 there were approximately 800,000 secretaries. Today there are 2.6 million.
The number of typists has increased also—from 275,000 to 636,000. However, the number of stenographers has declined some 65 percent over a 20-year period. This reflects the need for higher secretarial skills which are demanded by the growing complexity of business, and it also points to the declining requirements for stenographers as dictating machines are used more widely.
Salaries have increased right along with the number of secretarial jobs, too. In metropolitan areas secretarial salaries have risen 46 percent while the national Consumer Price Index has increased 34 percent.
The future looks bright as well. Between 1970 and 1980 it is anticipated there will be 308,000 job openings nationally for secretaries, stenographers, and typists. These openings, which are two-and-a-half times the number of openings in the next occupational category, will arise because of industrial growth and the need to replace workers leaving the labor force.

The new Year Brings A New You
Some time ago at a meeting held in a large sports town, two salutors, when spoken to about resolutions, said, "It ain't no use. If we give up drinking and swearing tonight, we will be as bad as ever tomorrow."
How many times have we promised ourselves and others things that have not lasted? A new year is coming, many promises are made, some in earnest and some out of fun. Because it is a whole year, promises seem more likely to last than at other times of the year.
No one knows what's ahead in the coming year, but they can hope for the best for themselves and promise to make things better for others.
To some, a new year is like another day. In a sense it is. A new day holds new actions and so does a new year. But a new year includes many such days that can be planned for in advance. By planning ahead the outcome may be even better.

A thought for ourselves at this time of the year could be: Think new and the world will become new. Think new and you will become new. We live in the midst of the old and the new, but if we cling only to the old, we die. If we push forward to the new, we live. No one can live in the past. Yesterday is in the past and tomorrow is in the future. Today is now and must be lived now. Our actions today might affect tomorrow, but they will not affect yesterday. What is done, is done. No matter the age, the attitudes, or the influences, new resolutions for improvement in one's self can always be made.
A final resolution for the new year could be: Leave behind in 1972 every old thought, every negative attitude, and awake into 1973 with new, dynamic, and creative thoughts and attitudes. Think new and be new in 1973! From the editors of the ZCHS, Rebel News comes this wish for a very Happy New Year. The Editors.

BEEF CATTLE CHORT
Folks continue to sign up for the Beef Cattle Chortcourse which will begin Tuesday night, January 9, in the large lecture room of the Enterprise State Junior College. Dr. J. Gossett and Dr. Dan Linton will be the speakers for the first night. Dr. Gossett will speak on overall beef cattle management and outlook. Dr. Linton will discuss ways to increase profits through marketing.

PEANUT IRRIGATION
There were four field peanut irrigation demonstrations carried out in Henry and Houston counties this past year. Charles Ogden, Extension engineer at Auburn, worked with the demonstrators. An average of 2 1/2 applications of water were applied at the average rate of 1 1/2 inches per application.

WEATHER REPORTING
Weather reporting is a lot more precise and sophisticated than it was when it began 100 years ago this year. The critical importance of weather to farmers has been recognized from the very earliest days of our country. The pilgrims carried out in Henry and Houston counties this past year. Charles Ogden, Extension engineer at Auburn, worked with the demonstrators. An average of 2 1/2 applications of water were applied at the average rate of 1 1/2 inches per application.

CHRYSAETHUMS
The prettiest bulletin on flowers I have ever seen is entitled "Evaluation of Garden Chrysantheums for Alabama." It is circular 202 and was just printed at Auburn. The front and back covers are just beautiful, and it has a lot of colored pictures in the middle of chrysantheums. Lot of folks believe that the chrysantheum is the aristocrat of the fall garden. It has a lot of uses in landscape designs. Today there are many new forms, colors and varieties of chrysantheums. Lot of folks believe that the chrysantheum is the aristocrat of the fall garden. Small Crop To Bring High Prices

Stored Pesticides Are Fire Hazards

There will be fewer pecans on U. S. markets this year, and prices will likely be higher, says M. R. Glasscock, Extension marketing specialist. Based on October 1 conditions, U. S. pecan growers are expected to harvest 185 million pounds, down seven million from the September 1 forecast and 25 percent below last year's yield. The specialist says most of the decline from last month's forecast in Alabama, Louisiana and Texas.

The major contributors to decline in pecan prospects were drier weather, insects and diseases, adds Glasscock. Nut sizes are generally smaller than usual and nuts are only partially filled in some areas. Glasscock says Alabama's pecan crop is now forecast at 24 million pounds, four million less than was predicted a month earlier and 13 million pounds below the 1971 harvest. The smaller crop is expected to bring higher prices.

Americans Are Big Snackers

"Americans munched $4.7 billion worth of snack foods in 1971," says Dr. Billy Powell, Extension food scientist. "The average U. S. household spent $73 on 20 snack products last year."
Potato chips and corn chips headed the list of popular snack foods. Other snacks leading cash sales were crackers, snack cakes, popcorn, pretzels and puffed snacks.
The growth rate for snack food sales is projected at six percent a year, adds Powell. Chips and puffed snacks will represent a healthy 14 percent of this year's increase. Snack food sales will also be increased due to popularity of new high protein snack foods. Powell says the popularity of chips will give the meat industry an opportunity to increase sales with meat-based products for dips, spreads and appetizers.

Farmers Produce More Soybeans
"American farmers are producing a tenth more soybeans this year than in 1971 and will get higher prices because of continued strong demand," says Dr. John Henderson, Extension soybean specialist. "Soybeans from the 1971 crop brought a season average of $3 a bushel, the highest price since 1947."

Cheese Use Is Increasing
Cheese has practically doubled in per capita consumption over the past two decades, says Dr. John Henderson, Extension economist.
A wide variety of cheeses can be found in our stores. There are about 18 distinct cheese varieties which sell under about 800 different names. The most popular cheese in the U. S. is the cheddar variety better known as American cheese. Henderson says about 776 plants in the U. S. produced over 1.5 billion pounds of American cheese over the last 20 years. This is a 48 percent increase in production from 56 per cent fewer manufacturing plants during this time.

Fewer plants with increased production have enabled the remaining plants to become more efficient in keeping costs down. This enables the housewife to buy cheese at a cost which competes with other items in the supermarket.
Henderson notes that cottage cheese, a tasty product with high nutritive value, has become the second most popular cheese. The per capita consumption of cottage cheese has increased about 40 per cent over the past two decades. For the past two years, cottage cheese production has increased 2.3 per cent each year. This percentage of increase was more rapid than that for any other type of cheese manufactured in the U. S.
Henderson says the housewife has become aware of the importance of high quality protein and high calcium content in the family diet. This plus improved quality and merchandising, probably explains the sharp increase in consumption of cheese.

Household Hint
When packing clothing away, number the boxes. Then number index cards and list what each box contains. This saves time when looking for a certain garment.

tial dangers of explosion, fire, and poisonings," says Talmadge Balch, Extension pesticide education specialist. "Fires or explosions can spread poison areas."
Dust explosions can occur where powdered pesticides are dispersed in air. When a flammable powder particle is mixed with a combustible solvent and sprayed with an atomized form of pesticides, there is a possibility of explosion. Then, firemen can be prepared to fight any pesticide risk to themselves and other persons, livestock and wildlife.

GRAND JURY ENDORSES COUNTY "UNIT SYSTEM"

The Elba Grand Jury was in session on Monday of this week and released the following report. It should be noted that for the first time an Elba Grand Jury has endorsed a "unit system" for Coffee County's road maintenance program. The Enterprise Grand Jury has previously gone on record as favoring this action.

Our inspection of the County property reveals the following:

a. Due to the type of construction the inside plastered walls will not withstand moisture and paint flakes off. Some type corrective action should be taken.

b. In many areas the tile is pulling away from the floors. C. The drains in the floors of the mens and ladies restrooms downstairs are unsafe and should be covered even with the floor levels.

d. There is a storage room above the Law Library, formerly the Superintendent of Education's office, in which old records are haphazardly kept. These records should be screened and the ones that require keeping should be properly stored and the others destroyed. The stairs to this area are dangerous.

e. We have examined the bonds of all the various County of bonds inspectors are properly filed and recorded. The trunks and accessories bonds are filed and recorded in the Enterprise Division.

f. This building is in good repair, however the front door will not remain closed which should have immediate attention.

g. There is a leak in the roof in the Forestry Office.

h. The public bathroom needs janitorial and maintenance attention.

i. The office of the Superintendent of Education still needs storage space which has been noted in the Grand Jury reports for the last five years. This can be corrected very simply as pointed out in a prior Grand Jury report dated 11th of August, 1970.

j. Windows and screens upstairs still require the maintenance that they required in the Grand Jury report of Fall of 1972, and should be repaired immediately. A leak in the roof over the kitchen also needs repairs. The prisoners appear to be well kept and fed.

k. The grounds behind this building should be cleaned up and the debris carried away. It is unsightly and dangerous.

There were certain recommendations in the report of the examiners of public accounts of the Office of the Probate Judge of Coffee County, which we commend to the Judge of Probate for implementation.

This Grand Jury wishes to go on record with a unanimous recommendation to the people of Coffee County and more particularly to the County Commissioners and the legislative delegation representing this County that a unit system for the maintenance and construction of roads and bridges in the County be adopted immediately or as soon as may be practical.

We wish to express our appreciation to the Court for the courtesies shown us, and now having completed our work we ask to be recessed pending further orders of the Court.

Done this 8th day of January, 1973.

Revival Set For Zoar Church

There will be revival services at the Zoar Community Church, beginning Sunday, January 14, 1973, each night at 7:00 p.m.

The visiting evangelist will be 19-year-old Robert James from Ypsilanti, Michigan.

The pastor, Sybil Bagwell, issues a cordial welcome to everyone. "Come, believing God to move, lift and build up your faith," she says.

Reception To Honor New Doctor

There will be a reception honoring Dr. Stephen Kim on Thursday evening, January 11, 1973, from 6:00 to 7:30 at the Elba Country Club.

Everyone is invited to come out and meet Dr. Kim, Elba's newest physician.

Jimmy C. Follis, age 34, part owner of radio station WELB in Elba was shot to death at work Tuesday afternoon. Follis was shot with a 30-30 rifle, with the shot point bullet entering his upper chest and coming out behind his right ear. The fatal shot was fired from outside the window of the broadcast room of the station as Follis was "on the board" broadcasting music to his listeners in the area. The shooting took place about 4 p.m. or two or three minutes after the hour. Law officers received the call at 4:10.

Arrested and charged with first degree murder is Clarence Dale Luttrell, a P. I. Rucker soldier who worked part time (Saturday afternoon) as a broadcaster for the station. Luttrell, who gave himself up to the Coffee County Sheriff Neil Grantham and Highway Patrolmen Ronald Whitworth has made a voluntary statement in the crime, according to usually reliable sources. Luttrell is 21 years old and in the past has served as Scoutmaster of Boy Scout troop sponsored by the First Baptist Church of Elba, where he attended church.

Deputy Grantham has impounded Luttrell's car, a small foreign car, a model 94 Winchester rifle, reportedly the weapon used in the shooting, according to other sources close to the investigating officers.

Persons who viewed the scene noted that normally the broadcaster would have his back to the window the shot was fired through, since the shot entered his face they feel the person firing the lone shot into the building made the kind of noise, loud enough to cause Follis to turn his face towards the window just as the shot was fired.

Follis is survived by his wife Judy, and two children.

Retiring Commissioner Bowden Gets Gift From Group

Commissioner Buster Bowden, center, is presented a small gift of appreciation for his many years of service to the people of Coffee County. Making the presentation is Commissioner Flournoy Whitman, who, according to Commissioner Bowden, "has served with Mr. Bowden longer than any of us on the County Board."

The presentation was made Monday at the regular County Commission meeting. It was the last regular meeting Mr.

Bowden will attend, as his term of office expires at midnight Sunday.

Others in the picture are Commissioners Albert Dyeas, Judge Sawyer, Bowden, Whitman and Commissioner Byron Galloway.

Bus Driver School Set At New Brockton

A school for school bus drivers and potential bus drivers will be held at the New Brockton High School Cafeteria beginning January 15, 1973, at 6:00 o'clock p.m.

These classes will be held each night through January 18 for three hours. All certified drivers will only have to attend for 6 hours, but they must attend the first two nights of the school. All prospective drivers will have to attend all four nights or for 12 clock hours of training.

Any person, now driving, holding a temporary license must attend this school. After this course, these temporary licenses will automatically become invalid. "All interested persons are encouraged to attend this school," demands are quite hard to fill, advises H. J. Locklar, Superintendent of Coffee County Schools.

On Tuesday, December 19, these girls along with their leaders, Mrs. David Richburg, Mrs. Wayne Marier, and Mrs. Harold Berry, presented a musical program for the residents of the Elba Nursing Home.

Coleman Is Appointed To City Board

The Elba City Council has appointed Mr. Virgil Coleman to a vacancy on the Elba Industrial Board. The vacancy was created when Charles Ellis was required by law to resign when he took office as a city councilman.

Stokes Haire is presently serving as chairman of the Industrial Board.
